

3 Steps for Maximising Transdisciplinary Contributions to Sustainability

Achieving sustainability requires insights from people who see the world from different perspectives; but, working with diverse perspectives can create communication challenges that stifle collaboration

We propose a 3 step process to help us maximize innovative and creative solutions for pressing sustainability challenges

1

Discuss the world views of each participant

2

Use feedbacks as a bridging concept

3

View multiple perspectives as an opportunity

